Helps Company Meet Changing Consumer Tastes

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N.Y. -- Solutions for Women today announced that it has chosen an innovative capsule technology for encapsulating its liquid Femmerol formulation. The company has chosen the patented Licaps[R] liquid capsule product from Capsugel, a world leader in capsule manufacturing. The innovative capsule technology enables Femmerol users to receive a consistently potent dose of the herbal supplement with enhanced bioavailability, and it allows Solutions for Women to take advantage of leading encapsulation technology for customized delivery.

"Women who seek natural solutions to PMS, peri-menopause, and menopause symptoms should be able to choose products that adhere to the same high-quality encapsulation and packaging practices that are used for prescription and over-the-counter pharmaceuticals," said Sabina Fasano, founder and CEO of Solutions for Women. "We want to ensure that our customers gain maximum benefit from Femmerol in an easy-to-take form."

Capsugel's formulators micronize the active herbal extracts, increasing particle surface area, and suspend them in a natural Omega-9 fatty acid oil matrix for additional antioxidant benefits. The liquid is filled into a capsule made from pure chlorophyll--the green pigment found in plants that is essential for photosynthesis--with no plasticizers. Each capsule is flushed with nitrogen to help preserve freshness and subsequently fused to keep out oxygen using a precision microspray process. The Femmerol capsules are tasteless and odorless, as well as vegetarian and kosher to meet customers' lifestyle preferences. All Femmerol products are packaged in an FDA-approved sterile environment.

Femmerol combines 11 herbs in a patented formulation that has been clinically studied to help relieve 17 primary symptoms associated with PMS, peri-menopause, and menopause. All of Femmerol's eleven herbs are FDA-approved for ingestion. Femmerol is available immediately. For information from the company's Web site, www.solutionsforwomen.com.
